Who we are

Research Retold is a Leeds-based research communication company with a mission to help researchers have a positive impact with their work. We turn dense research reports into easily digestible visual summaries that inspire action. We have a track record of working with researchers and evaluators in academia, as well as the public and third sectors.

Why hold a research communication workshop?

- Practical setting to learn about communicating research
- Key skill-building for generating research impact
- Supportive and engaging environment

What topics do we cover?

Most popular

Creating a 2-page visual summary

Build your communication skills by creating an effective 2-page visual summary.

Designing an integrated communications plan

Create a plan for how you tell the world about your research online and offline.

Collaborating with industry for social impact

Collaborate with key industries by communicating effectively.

Bespoke topic for your organisation

Propose a topic and we will work with you to make it happen.

Participants receive a free workbook to complete exercises, take notes and reflect on the new information learned. Our 32-page 'Guide to Communicating Research Beyond Academia' is an ideal companion for the first workshop; it includes tips, resources and exercises, thus maximising learning opportunities from the workshop (10 copies £135; 20 copies £195; 30 copies £275).
